Foreword

Rolling hills spattered with brilliant shades of autumn, precious maple sap dripping slowly into keelers, a small boy whistling as he drives home the cattle for the evening, the luster of the ever drifting snow, the soft pattering of the spring rain—all of these we will remember as a part of Somerset County. This year the theme of our yearbook, Country Aire, reflects these memories.

The class of 1961 wishes to express its gratitude to Mr. James Richardson, our advisor, Mr. C. R. Wetzel, our school photographer, and Miss Dorothy J. Wimer, our English instructor, for their aid in the preparation of this yearbook.

In Memoriam

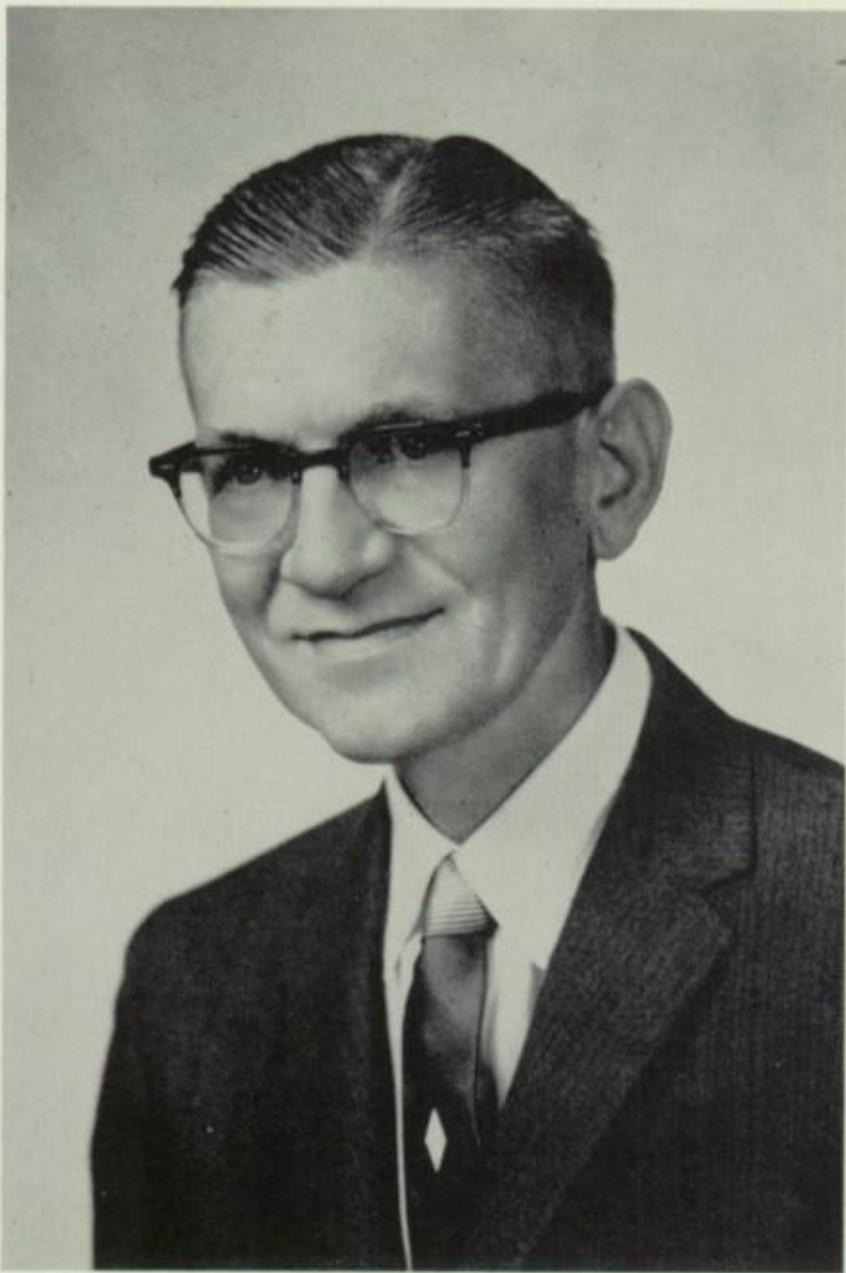

To all of us Mr. Harold F. Beech was a symbol of the great heights a musician can reach.

During Mr. Beech's full and active life, he furnished the spark that kindled the fire in the hearts of many people to become better musicians. Here in our own school, he provided a firm foundation on which the bands and instrumental music students could grow. For his genuine interest in our music department, we owe Mr. Beech our gratitude.

Mr. Beech was well qualified to head our instrumental music department. He was a graduate of the Ithaca College of Music, Indiana State Teachers College, and the Conservatory of Music in Italy. He taught in Greensburg and later was associate professor of music at Seton Hill College.

Mr. Beech's talents were put to use many times. Whether he was called on to play the melodious strains of a favorite tune or the solemn commencement march, Mr. Beech gave willingly of his time and talents.

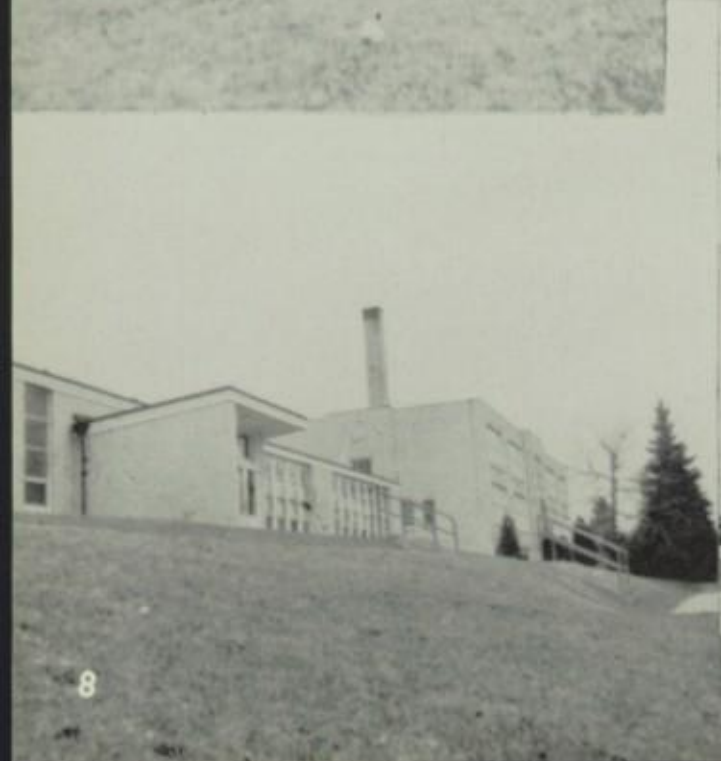

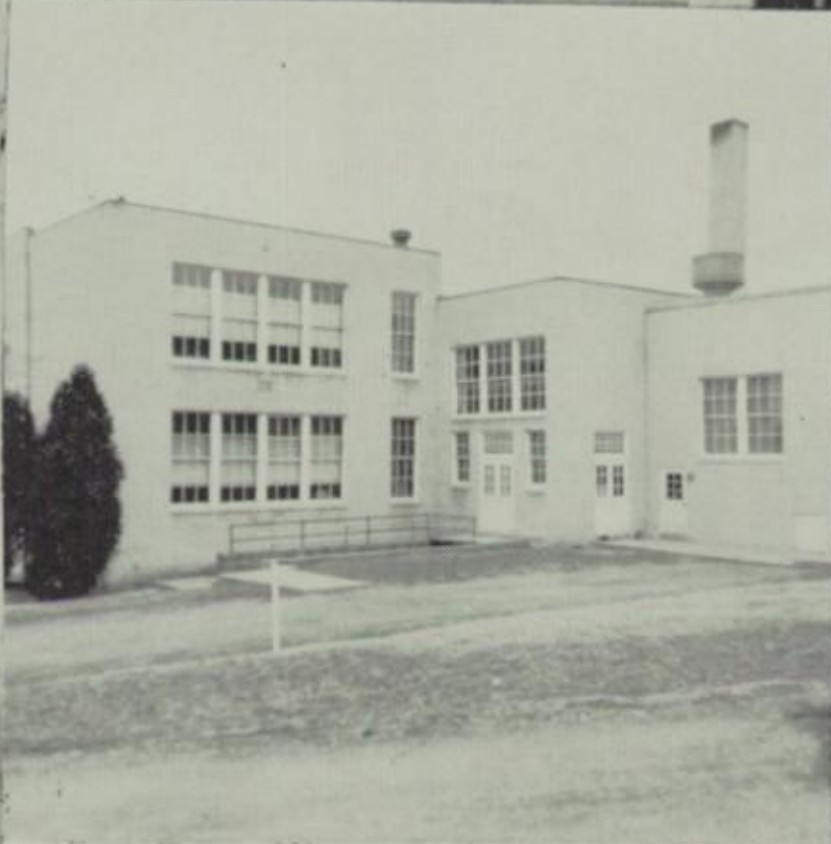

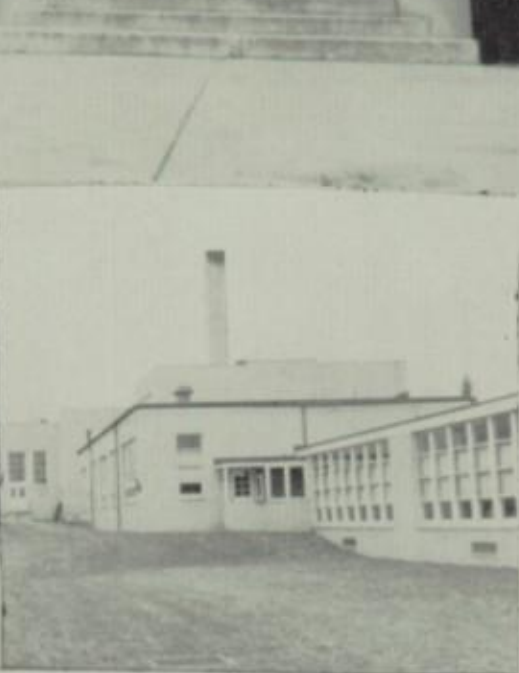

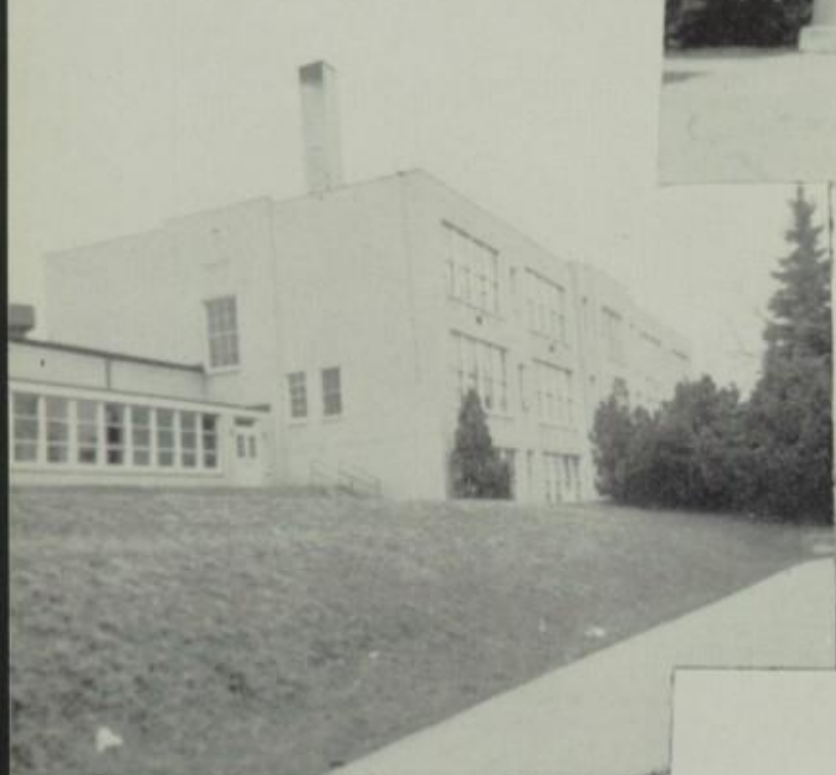

As a kind, understanding teacher and friend, Mr. Beech will long be remembered in the hearts and minds of everyone.

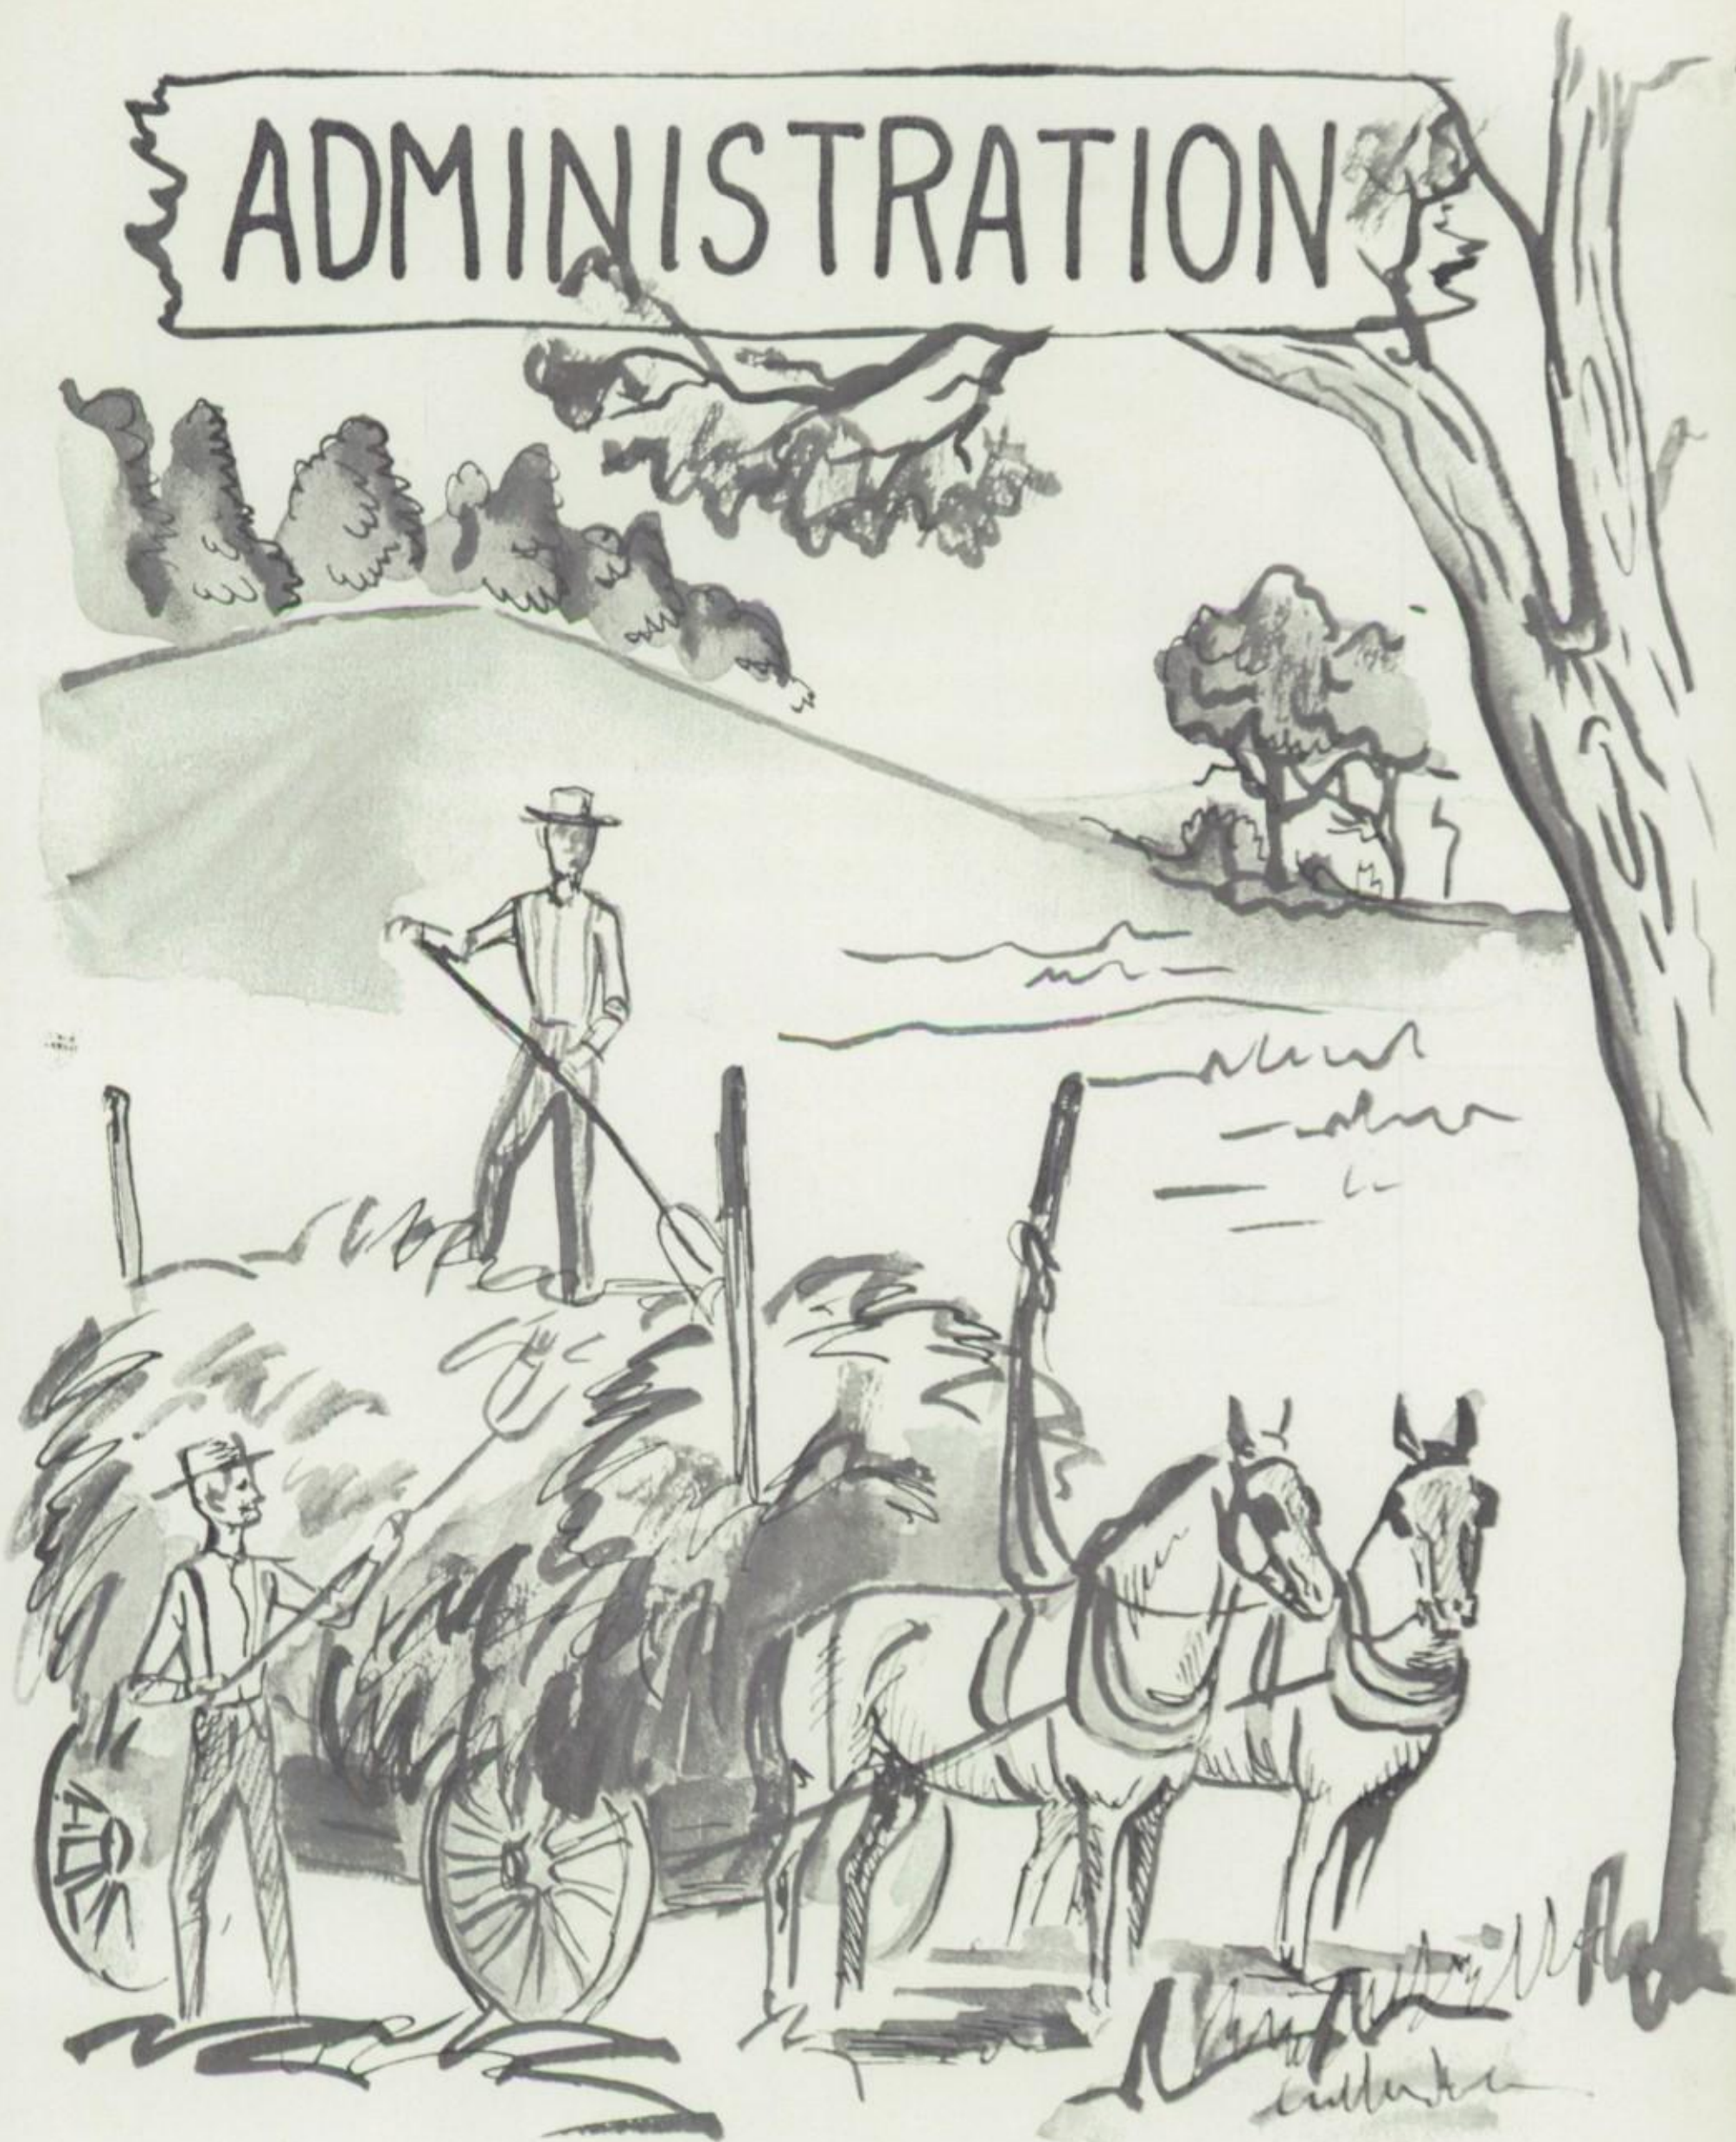

Dedication

With grateful hearts, the members of the 1961 graduating class dedicate this yearbook to their parents, whose guidance and understanding have helped transform dreams into reality.

Senior Class History

The many activities of the senior class began the first week of school. Seniors arrived at school on September 1, 1960, with shining faces, dressed in their Sunday best, for this was the day Cover Studio took senior portraits. Representatives of the senior class began practicing for the class play on September 28. October 7, 1960 arrived and found us sponsoring a dance for the junior and senior high school. We selected the theme "Moments to Remember" for our dance, in hopes of bringing back many happy memories to the seniors and underclassmen. The seniors thrilled the dramatic world, when on November 18, 1960 they presented a mystery-comedy, "Come Out of the Closet," under the direction of Miss Dorothy J. Wimer. On May 23, 1961, our commencement day, we seniors stood looking back over the past, with all its great and wonderful victories and achievements, and eagerly anticipating the future, with its yet more wonderful promise of great and glorious things to come.

Juniors

The junior class was busy this year carrying on tradition. The class played host to the junior-senior high school for the annual Christmas dance, "Winter Wonderland." Members of the class participated in the junior class play, directed by Miss Dorothy J. Wimer. Then came the biggest night of all. After many hours of hard work the plans for prom had been completed. No matter where their paths may wind, all those who attended the prom will have happy memories of pretty girls in colorful gowns, the haunting melodies of favorite old dance tunes, the inviting aroma of the banquet meal, the scrubbed and shining faces of the boys as they escorted their favorite girl to the prom.

Sophomores

The sophomores, although they sponsored few activities, were a class with their eyes and ears open. They supported the junior class by attending the Christmas dance in their prettiest party clothes. Sophomores served as a beacon light for the freshmen when they felt discouraged. For the seniors they always had a word of encouragement and praise.

ACTIVITIES

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society creates an enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulates a desire to render service, promotes leadership, and encourages the development of character in the high school pupils.

To become a member of this organization a student must attain a minimum of three A's and no grade lower than a B in any reporting period. He must also be active in at least two major extracurricular activities.

F.T.A.

The Shanksville Stonycreek Chapter of the Future Teachers of America was organized in the interest of high school students who felt that they would like to enter the education profession. By means of chapter programs the prospective teachers become better acquainted with the responsibilities and rewards of the teaching profession.

Student Council

The student council, our student government, meets once a month to discuss some of our local school problems and to try to find a suitable solution for them.

Each year three members of grades seven through twelve are elected by their classmates to serve on the council. This year these members, working together with their advisor, Mrs. Mable Doak, were able to complete several worthwhile projects. Through their sponsorship of Blue and Gold Days, school spirit was increased to a maximum. Money was earned by selling refreshments at the home basketball games.

Chicahonian

Collecting information, taking pictures, writing copy, and making layouts all went into the making of the 1961 Chicahonian. It was not an easy job, but required many months of hard work by all the staff members before our goal was achieved.

In the pages of this, the fruit of our labor, we have tried to capture the spirit of S.S.J.H.S. for all to treasure in the passing years.

F.F.A.

No national student organization enjoys greater freedom of self government under adult counsel and guidance than the Future Farmers of America.

The F.F.A. features a year-round program in which its members plan projects to carry out during the months when school is not in session. Summer project tours enable the members to view the progress and results of various home projects.

F.H.A.

If we realize that the home determines the present, we are also aware that the children determine the future. Thus, "We face the future with warm courage and high hopes," becomes an important part in the creed of the Future Homemakers of America.

This year the members are hoping to qualify for the Red Rose Chapter Award, the highest rating a chapter can achieve in the state. During the year, the Somerset County F.H.A. clubs organized a County Council, with Eileen Frye being elected as its first president. Four members of our local chapter attended the state convention at Pennsylvania State University this summer and returned full of enthusiasm for a more productive year.

J. Frazier, D. Hauger and J. Onstead, recipients of the State Homemaker Degree, take time out to arrange a flower bouquet.

Radio Guild

This year the Radio Guild was organized, under the sponsorship of Mr. James Brown. The purpose of the Radio Guild is to provide a more favorable listening pleasure toward radio by teaching broadcasting techniques.

The Radio Guild in cooperation with the Somerset Radio Station, WVSC, prepared and presented a program every three weeks. These programs were presented live as well as in tape.

The Safety Patrol, under the direction of Mr. George Hay, is primarily concerned with the physical safety of the entire student body. Patrol Boys are assigned posts; helping in the loading and unloading of school buses; guarding at cross roads in town. They are there for our protection, and we should cooperate to help insure a safe journey to and from school.

Eager voters receive the signal from Mr. Miller to enter the polls.

Student Election

The privilege to vote has often been cited as the backbone of our democratic government. To emphasize this belief, a student election was conducted in our school, on November 8, 1960, in connection with the general public election occurring on the same day. With the aid of the sponsors, Mr. John Miller and Mr. George Hay, the voting procedure was made as realistic as possible, with members of the junior and senior classes serving on the election board.

Registration of prospective voters is checked by members of the election board.

The election board works busily to keep the voting procedure running smoothly.

Senior Class Play

The senior class play, a three-act mystery-comedy entitled "Come Out of the Closet," told the tale of three eager, excited girls who come to New York hoping to establish careers, but are compelled to rent a run-down apartment on their first night in town.

Scarcely have the girls paid their rent before a parade of unique neighbors, including Mr. Cutter, a new father, and Guthrie Rosewater, a "modernistic" poet, begin to intrude themselves.

Even more strange is the room's locked closet—without a key. Yet there must be a key, for shadowy figures are seen slipping in and out of it carrying mysterious parcels.

As events turn out, the secret of the closet is unveiled and the girls reach a happier settlement in their new home as the play ends.

Junior-Senior Prom

The Junior-Senior Prom was one of the highlights in our junior year. After much planning and hard work, we completed our plans and achieved our goal. The theme of our prom, "Hawaiian Cruise," was illustrated by transforming the stage into the S.S. Stonycreek, docked in a tropical island of palm trees and grass huts. Here, amid this magic setting, couples whirled on and on to the enchanting strains of the Skyliners.

Preceding the dance the Home Economics Department served a delicious menu of ham for the Annual Senior Banquet held in the cafeteria.

The Skyliners provide the rhythm for dancing feet.

Prom King receives crown from Dr. Critchfield.

Band

The Shanksville-Stonycreek band soared to new heights this year under the capable direction of Mr. James A. Brown.

The summer schedule for the band was quite time consuming. However, the band members gave willingly of their time and effort to maintain an outstanding musical organization. Their efforts were not in vain as they brought home many prizes won in parades throughout the county. The winter schedule was no less hectic with concerts at Christmas and in the spring as highlights of the season. Programs for P.T.A. and other school functions were also on the agenda.

This year we were honored to have twelve members of our band participate in all-county band. Kay Sorber and Jack Spangler went on to play in district band.

Chorus

Interpretation and appreciation of fine music, was the ultimate goal of our vocal music department this year.

Due to the change of instructors at midterm, our chorus had the privilege of working toward this goal with two capable directors, Miss Joyce Winsheimer and Mr. Daniel Shaw. Both worked diligently so that the annual spring concert would be ranked with the best. The senior chorus also had the honor of having representatives in both all-county and district chorus.

Basketball

"The Vikings are going all the way" was the slogan and the spirit echoed throughout the halls of S.S.J.H.S. during the 1960-61 basketball season. Our mighty Vikings measured up to expectations as they sailed "all the way" to capture the District IV Championship by overpowering Tussey Mountain.

The team's impressive 19-3 record is attributed to their fighting spirit and ability to hustle. Senior players, Bob Reed and Wayne Long, who were later named to the All-County team, could always be relied on to keep our team on top.

To all the students of our school 1961 will be remembered proudly as the year "the Vikings went all the way."

Baseball

Although the baseball team won only two of seven games during the 1960 season, we are proud of the fine sportsmanship and fighting spirit they displayed.

Two members of the team were especially valuable in the quest for victor. Edward Lowry ended the season with the highest batting average of .428, and John Daugherty is given credit for pitching the two victorious games.

Since most of the players on the 1960 team were underclassmen, fans of Americans favorite pastime, baseball, are looking forward to their return to a more successful season in 1961.

Cheerleaders

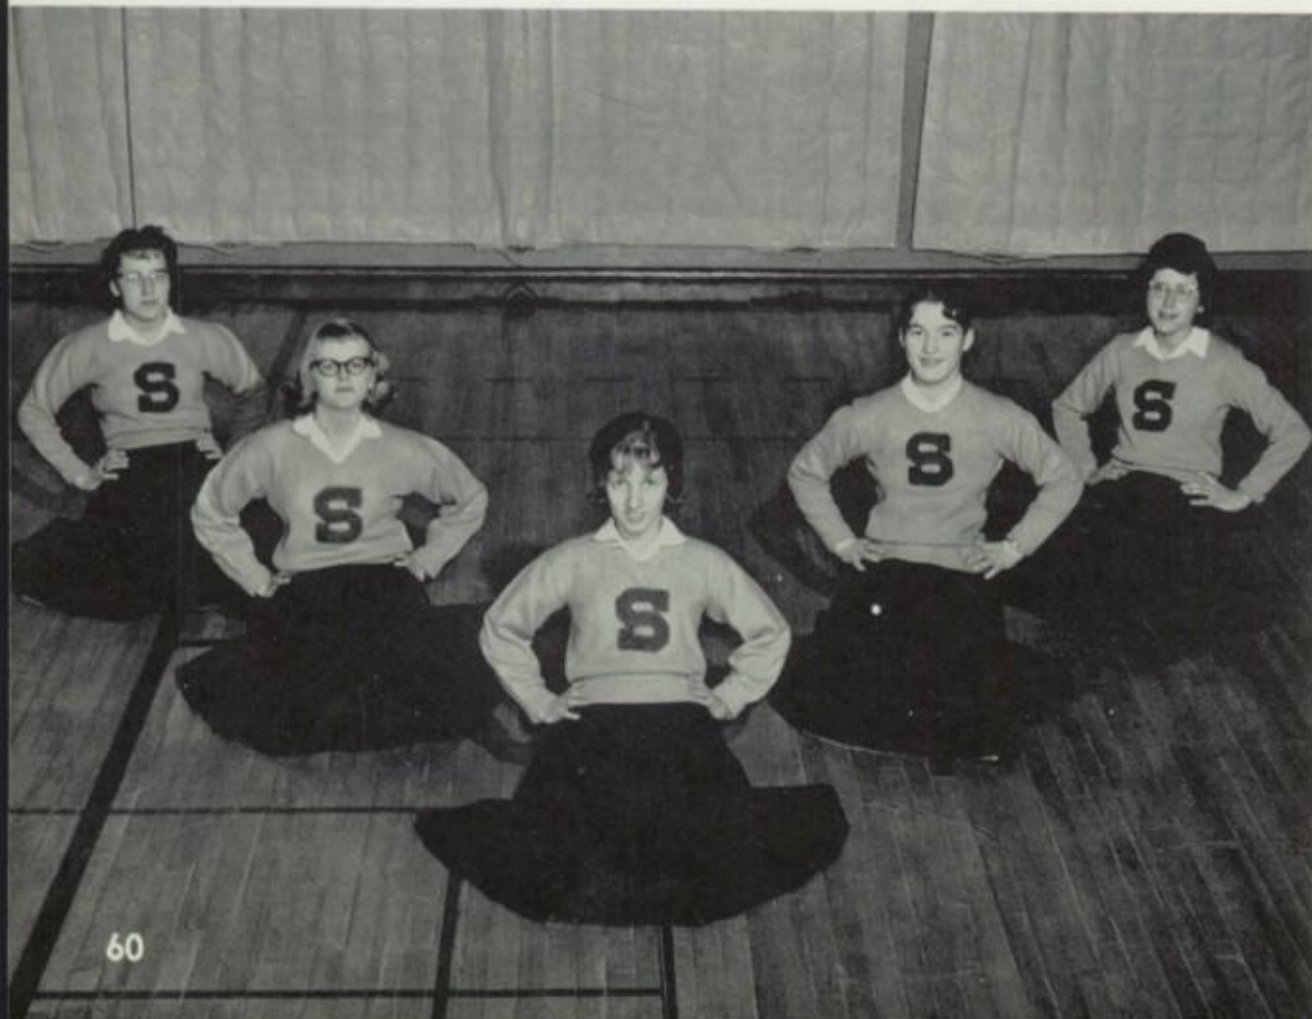

Our champion basketball team of 1961 was supported by a group of loyal, energetic cheerleaders, who never allowed the spirit of S.S.J.H.S. to lag.

The twelve members of the two squads spent a lot of time practicing new cheers and perfecting the old. They sponsored a bakesale and a dance in order to secure enough money for new uniforms in the school colors. The honor achieved by the cheerleaders last year in winning third prize in the annual Somerset County cheerleading contest inspired this year's squad to aim for even greater distinction.
